Course Description

The course provides an introduction to Swedish politics. Topics discussed include the political system in general, the constitution, the government, and the multiple Swedish political parties. Both historical and contemporary perspectives are employed in the course. Emphasis is on the role of Sweden as a small country in a global context, and as a member of the European Union and the United Nations. Swedish attributes, such as the “Swedish Model” and the policy of neutrality, are analyzed from an historical perspective as well as with reference to the present situation. Special attention is dedicated to policies concerning issues of gender, refugees, and ethnic pluralism.
