

COURSE DETAIL

GREAT POWER COMPETITION

Country

France

Host Institution

Sciences Po Reims

Program(s)

Sciences Po Reims

UCEAP Course Level

Upper Division

UCEAP Subject Area(s)

Political Science International Studies

UCEAP Course Number

135

UCEAP Course SuffixUCEAP Official Title

GREAT POWER COMPETITION

UCEAP Transcript Title

GREAT POWER COMPETN

UCEAP Quarter Units

4.50

UCEAP Semester Units

3.00

Course Description

This course addresses the transformation of world order which underlines a return to great power competition. It examines how the inertia of international structures is met with a deregulation of competition, inside and outside of the boundaries of international law. The course investigates the global struggle between peer and near-peer competitors expressed at the world level and its impacts on regional and local stability. It addresses the growing phenomenon of assertive emerging powers encountering self-questioning Europe and the United States and the return of political rivalry and military frictions. The course analyzes its historicity, comprehends its current trends, and projects its prospects through an inter-disciplinary approach.

Language(s) of Instruction

English

Host Institution Course Number

BAFF 1770A

Host Institution Course Title

GREAT POWER COMPETITION

Host Institution Campus

Host Institution Faculty

Host Institution Degree

Core Common

Host Institution Department

International Relations

Print