Course Description

This course asks the question how Japan's role in the world changed between 1945 and 2018. A particular focus of the course is on developments over the past two decades; foreign policy factors at home and abroad, and future prospects for relations with Europe, China, South Korea, ASEAN, and Australia. It introduces the current state of these bilateral and multilateral relations, as well as core foreign policies such as security, trade, development, and human security.
