

COURSE DETAIL

THOUGHT
Country United Kingdom - England
Host Institution University of Bristol
Program(s) University of Bristol
UCEAP Course Level Upper Division
UCEAP Subject Area(s) Philosophy Classics
UCEAP Course Number 123
UCEAP Course Suffix
UCEAP Official Title THOUGHT
UCEAP Transcript Title THOUGHT
UCEAP Quarter Units 8.00
UCEAP Semester Units 5.30

Course Description

This course introduces students to several foundational traditions of thought in Greek and Roman philosophy. Authors or movements covered may include the pre-Socratics, Plato, Aristotle, Stoicism, and Epicureanism. Among its themes is the nature of reality, its relation to human thought and language, the purpose of life, and the way to happiness.

Language(s) of Instruction

English

Host Institution Course Number

CLAS10040

Host Institution Course Title

THOUGHT

Host Institution Campus

Bristol

Host Institution Faculty

Host Institution Degree

bachelors

Host Institution Department

Classics and Ancient History

Print