Course Description
This course explores the evolution of the global economy over the last twenty-five years. After 1989, the World's political and economic mutual destruction equilibrium, in place since the end of the Second World War, transformed deeply, giving place to a much more intricate and complex situation. Confronted with these increasing challenges, managers and policy-makers need to master critical historical perspective and knowledge, and acquire the analytical tools, to understand the changes underway and the new geometries of the global economy. This course provides the basic instruments and skills essential to achieve these objectives. Textbook for the course is GLOBAL CAPITALISM: ITS FALL AND RISE IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY by A.J. Frieden. Final assesment: group take home essay - (30%), 10 true or false (with motivation) questions (written, in class) - (55%), Active class participation - (15%). Textbooks A.J. FRIEDEN, Global Capitalism. Its Fall and Rise in the Twentieth Century, Norton 2007 (paperback); Online Articles
