Course Description

This course answers a wide range of inquiries related to the one of the most complex and profound texts in human history, the Old Testament, or the Hebrew Bible. Who wrote this book? For whom was this book written? When and how was this book created and completed? How was this book interpreted throughout the history of Western civilization?

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will:
1. Be familiar with theological terms and expressions in the English language for Old Testament study.
2. Demonstrate understanding and knowledge of the basic contents and theological outlooks of some relevant texts of the Old Testament.
3. Discuss some significant contemporary debates and recent developments concerning the formation history of the Old Testament.
4. Engage with big ideas.
5. Improve intellectual and academic skills.
