Course Description
Upon completing the course, students with foreign education backgrounds and native languages other than the Scandinavian languages and Finnish have acquired basic skills in the Swedish language and some knowledge about Swedish society. The course includes systematic reading and practicing of basic grammatical structures and principles of pronunciation, reading of textbooks as well as easy authentic texts, exercises in pronunciation, exercises in listening comprehension, and short exercises in oral and written communication. After completing the reading and writing portion of the course, students are able to: demonstrate knowledge of, and apply fairly accurately the rules of, Swedish language structure; have a developed vocabulary that they can deal with situations beyond everyday life; read and comprehend newspaper articles and other authentic Swedish texts; respond in writing and comment on various facts/opinions. After completing the listening comprehension and oral proficiency portion of the course, students are able to: hold presentations about and explain factual topics, and in doing so, use more developed language; participate in conversations and discussions about both familiar and unfamiliar topics and events; understand what is said on the radio and the TV, such as news or entertainment programs, but also some factual programs that don't make excessive demands of the student's prior knowledge.
