Course Description

This course is designed for students who have successfully completed the intermediate level of German and who have a sound knowledge of German. It focuses on encounters with various written, spoken and audio-visual texts and exchanges with other course participants. Students further develop and expand their competencies in listening, speaking, reading and writing, as well as their understanding of German culture while being enabled to learn reflectively and strategically. The course addresses cultural, political, and historical aspects of the city of Berlin and the German-speaking countries, which students analyze and compare with their own background and experiences. Through this course students develop and regularly employ new strategies for language acquisition. Students gain an improved ability to participate in conversations and discussions of various topics in a German-speaking environment while choosing the right linguistic register. Furthermore, students further improve their ability to read and understand texts of various length and from a variety of genres without difficulties. In addition, students expand and refine their essay writing skills, and are able to write, independently revise, and correct written work that meets the standards for academic writing.
