Course Description
This seminar is aimed at students who are interested in issues of European and transnational regulation of financial markets. The first part of the seminar is devoted to theoretical approaches to International Political Economy that explain the regulation of financial markets (regulatory capture, economic patriotism, club governance, institutionalist approaches, Marxist approaches, constructivist approaches). The second part of the seminar focuses on important topics of transnational financial market regulation (derivatives, investment funds, financial sustainability, banking supervision, rating agencies).
