Course Description

Please note that there are different sections of this course at UNIBO, both at the LM and LT levels. The LM sections require special permission as they are part of the Laurea Magistrale in Direzione aziendale degree.This description applies to the LM course with Prof. Bolatto. This course analyzes the regulatory framework for trade and the regulatory issues relating to international markets and regional markets, such as U.S. and EU markets, and emerging markets in Africa and Asia. Topics include Institutional structures (GATT/WTO, NAFTA, EU, APEC, SADEC, CEDEAO) and Regulatory authorities; International dimensions of market regulation (tariffs and customs regulations, product safety and environmental restrictions, trademark and patent regulations); and settlement of disputes. The course discusses topics including multinational firms and foreign direct investments, global value chains, firm strategies in global value chains, and international princes and exchange rates.
