COURSE DETAIL

SOCIAL CHANGE, NEW SOCIAL MOVEMENTS AND POLITICS IN BRITAIN AFTER 1945

Country
United Kingdom - England

Host Institution
University College London

Program(s)
University College London

UCEAP Course Level
Upper Division

UCEAP Subject Area(s)
History

UCEAP Course Number 119

UCEAP Course Suffix

UCEAP Official Title
SOCIAL CHANGE, NEW SOCIAL MOVEMENTS AND POLITICS IN BRITAIN AFTER 1945

UCEAP Transcript Title
SOC&POL IN BRITAIN

UCEAP Quarter Units
6.00

UCEAP Semester Units
4.00

Course Description

This course looks at the interaction of social change and politics in postwar Britain, integrating social and cultural history with political history. It introduces students to change thinking about class, race, and gender among political parties in Britain, looking at political thought, political ideologies, and political propaganda. Students examine the changing social and cultural bases of politics, and why “new social movements” like the Women’s Liberation Movement and Gay Liberation exploded onto the scene from the late 1960s onwards.

Language(s) of Instruction
English

Host Institution Course Number
HIST0544

Host Institution Course Title
SOCIAL CHANGE, NEW SOCIAL MOVEMENTS, AND POLITICS IN BRITAIN AFTER 1945

Host Institution Course Details
https://www.ucl.ac.uk/module-catalogue/modules/social-change-new-social-movemen...

Host Institution Campus
University College London

Host Institution Faculty

Host Institution Degree
bachelors

Host Institution Department
History

Course Last Reviewed
2021-2022

Print