Course Description
The course provides students with an opportunity to undertake a directed independent study project. Students are expected to agree to a topic in consultation with the affiliate tutor and a project supervisor. Students should think about a topic in advance, and come to the first meeting with the supervisor with questions about how to address their topic. The purpose of discussion with the supervisor is to define the scope of the project so that it can be done in one or two terms. This course allows students to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of an area of politics/political science, having undertaken a piece of directed research on a subject of their choice. This is the semester only version of the year-long course.
