Course Description
This class provides you with an overview of finance and accounting tools as used by small firms. The class examines basic principles of accounting as would typically be used by entrepreneurs, with emphasis on real-world tools. Once these principles have been introduced it then addresses more broadly the role finance plays in the survival and growth of small firms. It discusses how firms use capital to grow, and then covers the variety of sources firms may use for external capital, including (but not limited to) banks, business angels, venture capitalists and small cap stock markets.
