Course Description

This course examines Hong Kong's history since the early 1800s. Hong Kong sits at the intersection of Chinese history and world history. Throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, it became a place with its own identity. Which persons or ideas influenced the shaping of Hong Kong? In what ways was Hong Kong connected to British empire and modern China? What were the main themes in Hong Kong's development? How can historians make sense of Hong Kong's past? How has Hong Kong's past shaped its present? How should its past be represented?
