Course Description

This course is taught at Hebrew University of Jerusalem's Faculty of Social Sciences in the spring term. There is another course with the same title that is taught by Rothberg International in the fall term. This course focuses upon the topic of negotiations and conflict resolution in the context of the Arab-Israeli conflict since 1977 to the present. The course is divided into three parts. First, the course examines the general theoretical framework for explaining and understanding negotiations in international relations. Second, students discuss in general terms the history of the Arab-Israeli conflict and the main issues and patterns of negotiations. Third, the course address several case studies of successes and failures of negotiations between Israel and its several Arab neighbors Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, and the Palestinians.
