Course Description

This course examines some of the pivotal events in the history of the Arab-Israeli conflict from the early 20th century to the present. The evolution of the conflict between Arab states, the Palestinians and the Zionist movement, the Arab-Israeli wars, and the peace negotiations and treaties between Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and the Palestinian national movement, are some of the main themes in this course. The course discusses the complexity of the conflict, the role of the conflict with Israel in intra-Arab relations, and the development of the Palestinian national movement from its inception, its relations with Arab countries, and its division between PLO and Hamas. Beyond discussions, the course includes panels and historical "trials" where students present the case of conflicting views on the events discussed in class.
