Course Description

This course studies how to communicate on a basic level in the spoken dialect of Jerusalem: colloquial Arabic. During the course students acquire the four skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing colloquial Arabic. The course discusses the conjugation of the verbs, declination of the nouns and the prepositions, and a large vocabulary from different fields of daily life. Attention is given to active use of the spoken dialect. Classes are conducted in Arabic, and students are expected to gradually participate in class in Arabic. The course utilizes primary sources including original study material written in Arabic and songs.
