Course Description
This course provides students with an overview of European Union–Africa relations, in all their dimensions. The main goal of the course is to grant students with a multidisciplinary and cross-thematic knowledge on the EU using EU-Africa as a viewpoint. The lectures present the necessary knowledge and tools for students to develop their own understanding and reflections regarding the different interactions, mutual perceptions, challenges, actors, and levels of EU–Africa relations in a context of globalization. A first part of the lecture covers thematic issues, ranging from development to political or diplomatic and security issues. It focuses on the shifting nature and content of EU-Africa relations, under the pressure from the international environment. A second part of the lecture adopts transversal problematics of EU-Africa relations such as regionalization and the analysis of three case studies chosen for the complementary perspective they offer: Mali, Southern Africa, and Northern Africa. In the end, EU-Africa relations are analyzed as a process of interactions and mutual co-construction of two sets of actors in globalization.
