Course Description
This course is an introduction to modern standard Arabic in which students develop an understanding and use of familiar everyday expressions and phrases aimed at satisfying normal activities. Students also learn to introduce themselves and others and can ask as well as answer questions about personal details such as where they live, people they know, and things they have. The focus is on the Arabic writing systems and similarities and differences between standard and non-standard dialects. Students develop skills in reading, writing, listening, and speaking.
