Course Description

Peace and Conflict Studies is an interdisciplinary field of study with a commitment to the non-violent management and resolution of conflict from the local to the international level. This course covers key theoretical approaches in peace and conflict studies research, enabling students to understand the relevance of theory to practice in this field. Students engage in dialogue on questions such as how we identify actors in peace and in conflict, and how we can work against differing forms of violence and reconstitute just and participatory social and political order in the wake of violence.
