Course Description

This course presents historical and aesthetic concepts related to the development of artistic styles that found an expression in architecture and visual arts. In addition to examining global artistic styles, their roots, and local developments, the course also explores various local, ethnic, religious, and societal facets, including Jewish art and architecture, different artistic representations that emerged at the turn of the nineteenth century, and the effects of the totalitarian system on the city through extensive construction of housing estates. Students discuss the development of Prague as a city, including the effects of technical advancements, philosophical and social concepts on city planning, housing, and daily life in different time periods. The course consists of lectures, discussions, group work, student presentations, and weekly field trips to various areas of Prague.
