Course Description

Introduction to Psychology, is a course offered to undergraduate students who are interested in the science of psychology. The course aims to provide an overview to major fields of psychology, i.e. the methodology and the basis of psychological reasoning, classical concepts and theories as well as the latest research findings and new progresses made in psychology to promote the understanding and changes in individuals, families and societies. Particularly, the course highlights the cultural perspective among other major approaches in modern psychology. Students are encouraged to apply what they have learned from the course to enhance the quality of their lives as well as the lives of others if possible. It is also hoped that by highlighting a cross-cultural perspective in teaching, students may develop the sensitivity as well as the appreciation for diversity in human lives, and therefore embrace a more open and tolerant attitude towards themselves and others.
