Course Description

This course is designed to help students practice and interact in Setswana during visits to local historical and cultural sites, while engaged in various community-based learning projects. This is a task-based course and requires students to take the lead to complete tasks or research projects of personal interest. This course also serves as a language clinic, so that students can have all of their questions related to Setswana learning answered. Assessment: attendance and participation in discussions and exercises, focus questions, group research project, midterm and final exams, scavenger hunt.
