Course Description

This course introduces students to Italian politics and political economy in the context of its insertion into European integration and world politics, and is divided into three parts. The first part deals with the historical analysis of the Italian institutional and administrative systems; the Italian political system; interest organization; and socio-economic cleavages and the Italian labor markets. The second part focuses on the political economy of Italy in Europe, Europeanisation of decision-making and implementation in economic, monetary, and fiscal matter and the impact of the Euro-zone crisis on Italy. The third part is concerned with the place of Italy in the world, Italian migratory policy and its relations with neighboring countries.
