Course Description

In this course the use of different media sources, (1) gaming and online videos, (2) social media, and (3) music, are discussed in relation to adolescents' development. The central themes of adolescent development relevant to this course are psychological wellbeing (e.g. life satisfaction, happiness, behavioral problems), social relationships (e.g. parents, peers), identity, emotion and motivation (e.g. reasons for use, habits). This course evaluates the position of digital media in youth lifestyle and youth culture, and reflects on the influence digital media has on the development of adolescents.
