Course Description
The course gives an introduction to the contemporary geographical perspectives on African development. The course gives an overview of the socio-economic diversity of Africa, putting special efforts on mapping the present situation and lifting up not only the concerns, but also the potentials, of the continent. The course covers issues relating to geography, history, society, politics, and economy. This is done by presenting and reproducing the continent and its history from different perspectives, such as a post-colonial African perspective.
