Course Description

This course is designed for students who have successfully completed the basic level and the first part of the intermediate level of German and who have a sound knowledge of German. It focuses on encounters with various written, spoken and audio-visual texts and exchanges with other course participants. Students further develop and expand their competencies in listening, speaking, reading and writing, as well as their understanding of German culture while being enabled to learn reflectively and strategically. The course addresses cultural, political, and historical aspects of the city of Berlin and the German-speaking countries, which students analyze and compare with their own background and experiences. Through this course students develop and regularly use new strategies for language acquisition. Students participate in conversations and discussions of various topics in a German-speaking environment. Furthermore, students develop reading strategies that allow for the understanding of different texts of various levels of difficulty and from a variety of genres. In addition, students improve their essay writing skills, and are able to write texts of various length on a range of topics and revise, and proofread them.
