Course Description
This course introduces famous archaeologists, sites, concepts, and methods to demonstrate how contemporary archaeology informs us about the ancient human past. This course explores the fundamental concepts, principles, and themes of the broad and multi-faceted discipline of archaeology. In doing so it considers how archaeologists understand past human cultures and explores major milestones in the human past, such as Human evolution and dispersal, the origins of agriculture, the origins of complex societies, the colonization of Australia, and the development of the modern world. The course covers examples from around the world, and also considers archaeology as a profession in Australia, especially its role in cultural heritage management.
