Course Description

Philosophy can be seen as a search for wisdom, a quest for better understanding of ourselves, the world, and the best ways to live. This course examines how this idea is carried out in three of the world's major philosophical traditions, in classical Greece, China, and India. However, these ideas are not merely historical curiosities; they are alive and meaningful in our world today. Students read works by recent and contemporary philosophers who are responding to these ancient ideas and are in a dialogue with them. The course discusses topics including life, truth, and lies; the concepts of I, thou, and we; law and justice; self; and recent philosophy.
