Course Description
This course is an introductory look at the discipline of sociology. Sociology is the study of society—individuals, institutions, nations, and the world. The course introduces central theoretical perspectives, methodology, examples of empirical research, and the various subject areas in sociology—such as deviance, the sociology of education, social movements, gender, and stratification. Students learn how to look at and analyze their world through a sociological perspective. Text: Sociology: UNDERSTANDING AND CHANGING THE SOCIAL WORLD. Assessment: group presentation (7%), group writing assignment (15%), quizzes (8%), midterm exam (30%), final exam (40%).
