Course Description

This course is designed for beginners with at least one semester of university-level French to acquire the linguistic and communicative skills at a beginning intermediate level. Content covered includes reading, writing, oral and written comprehension, speaking, grammar, and vocabulary. Although all skills are worked on, the emphasis is put on speaking and interaction. Drawing on a wide range of materials, including audio and video documents, learners are gradually introduced to the structures that are necessary for communication and then use these linguistic tools in written and oral form.
