Course Description
This pre-semester course prepares foreign students for academic study at a German university. The focus is on the improvement of oral and written expression as well as grammar and lexical proficiency. The course covers selected topics on German politics and society within a historical context. In addition, excursions are planned to introduce students to German culture. Students work with cultural topics in everyday situations and broaden their intercultural knowledge. They are introduced to independent learning methods and familiarize themselves with typical learning situations at German universities. In this class at the C1 level according to CEFR, students do in-depth study of grammatical structures that are typical of academic writing and its application in text production and reception. They systematically expand their vocabulary (including abstract vocabulary) and stylistic ways of expression. Students critically analyze different types of texts. They learn working techniques to plan, structure, and present complex subject matter.
