Course Description

The European Union is faced with numerous challenges that take up the front page news: Brexit in March; a crucial election of European Parliament in May; fragility in the Euro Zone, governments led by the Far Right who do not respect the rules and put into question their values; the general rise in Populisms; the ongoing issue of migration; confrontation with Russia; the risk of terrorism. This interactive seminar helps students to understand and reflect on possible outcomes to the crisis. Through innovative pedagogy, this seminar offers to students the possibility to deconstruct the current major issues. Through the upside down classroom, the students are the major players in this class. The material is covered through an online platform and the seven class sessions are dedicated to work in groups: group workshops, debates, simulations, role playing, etc.
