Course Description

Public administration (PA) involves the "core activities" of government that are performed, for the most part, by highly trained experts and specialized organizations; its purpose is the development and implementation of public policy. This broad definition encompasses a large dynamic portion of government at all levels, engaging even nonprofit and private enterprise. This course provides an overview of the concepts, theories, and issues of public administration. It presents various complexities of the field of PA. Particular attention is paid to how different national and political contexts allow for different patterns of PA functioning.
