Course Description
This course for foreign students is designed to improve students' language skills and vocabulary. Areas of focus include grammar, conversation, writing exercises, and listening and reading exercises. In addition, excursions are planned to introduce students to German culture. Students work with cultural and historical topics in everyday situations and broaden their intercultural knowledge. They are introduced to independent learning methods and familiarize themselves with typical learning situations at German universities. In this class at the C1 level according to CEFR, students do in-depth study of grammatical structures that are typical of academic writing and its application in text production and reception. They systematically expand their vocabulary (including abstract vocabulary) and stylistic ways of expression. Students critically analyze different types of texts. They learn working techniques to plan, structure, and present complex subject matter.
