Course Description

This is an advanced C1 level French language course for students who have completed a minimum of four semesters of university level French and also have had experience in a francophone context (educational, professional, or touristic) that enables them to be comfortable communicating orally and in writing. The course focuses on the four competencies of spoken expression, written expression, listening comprehension, and reading comprehension. The spoken expression section masters providing clear, detailed descriptions on complex subjects, integrating related themes, developing particular points, and concluding in an appropriate manner; expressing oneself fluently and spontaneously without searching for words; using language flexibly and effectively for social and professional purposes; and expressing ideas and opinions with precision and relating statements to those of one's interlocutors. The written expression section practices expressing oneself in clear and well-structured text and present one's own point of view; writing about complex subjects in a letter, essay, or report, highlighting what the important points; and adopting a style appropriate to the intended reader. The listening comprehension section focuses on understanding a long speech even if it is not clearly structured and the connections are only implicit, and understanding TV programs and films with minimal effort. The reading comprehension section practices understand long and complex texts, both factual and literary, appreciating differences of style, and understanding specialized articles and long technical instructions even when not related to one's field.
