Course Description

This course presents a thematic introduction to Irish art, architecture, and design in its broader international context. Subjects are connected across periods and styles – the focus not on presenting individualized summarized histories but rather considering how aspects of Irish visual history are connected and have evolved over time. Lectures include the identification of key works from Irish art and architecture, addressing fine, applied, and popular art-forms. Throughout the course, Irish visual history is discussed in its artistic, social, and cultural contexts together with its place in a broader international perspective.
