Course Description

Social psychology is the scientific study of how people's behavior, thoughts, and feelings are influenced by others. This course covers the core themes from social psychology – such as attitudes and attitude change, conformity, and aggression – and how they can be scientifically investigated. During the course, students participate in a "Humans of Maastricht" project. In this project, students make contact with their self-perceived "out-group," applying social psychological theories and concepts to their experiences and reducing their stereotypes and prejudice in the process.
