Course Description

This course prepares students to participate in university lectures taught in Japanese. By studying various topics, students will acquire the Japanese language proficiency (listening, reading, discussion, and writing) required for university lectures and autonomous learning skills to improve these skills further. The target level is CEFR B2.2. Prerequisite: “J6: Japanese” or equivalent. Three class hours/week.

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Listen and comprehend long conversations, lectures, discussions, and media messages if an argument's structure and point are clear.
- Understand lengthy and abstract text in their familiar field, provided they can use a dictionary occasionally.
- Conduct discussion, presentation, etc., neither making mistakes that lead to misunderstanding nor causing strain or inconvenience to the listener.
