Course Description
This course of advanced level Spanish course is designed to build upon the foundation laid in previous language courses equivalent to five semesters of university Spanish language instruction. It aims to elevate students' linguistic proficiency to an advanced-high level, equipping them with the linguistic skills and cultural competence needed for effective communication marked by a substantial oral communication, writing, and reading fluency. Through a combination of interactive lessons, co-curricular activities in and around the city, and cultural exploration, students will strengthen their speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills while actively exercising their knowledge of Spanish language and culture. The course focuses on achieving proficiency levels corresponding to Advanced Mid/High of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) and B2 according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).
