Course Description

This course is for international undergraduate students with intermediate Chinese proficiency. The selected textbooks cover a wide range of subjects, including literature, history, philosophy and natural sciences, etc., and the contents are highly discussable, helping to train students' critical thinking abilities. At the same time, the written vocabulary is expanded in a targeted manner, the reading speed and comprehension level are improved, and students are trained to master the basic writing skills of Chinese articles during reading. The writing training combines the text content, style and the actual needs of the students, focusing on the analysis of grammatical errors, the analysis and application of written vocabulary, and the writing training that is biased towards academic argumentative styles, striving to enable students to write in order and meet the course requirements.
