Course Description

This course provides students with credit for professional and academic experience through internships with local organizations. While working at the internship site, students gain new abilities and skills and develop self-confidence from pursuing challenging goals. The academic component helps students navigate the challenges that they are likely to face while interning and afford them a greater understanding of their strengths and limitations related to their work experience and to Morocco. Students thereby get the opportunity to explore or affirm possible career aspirations. The Internship course provides students with a significant on-site work experience, both in terms of time spent and the tasks completed under the guidance of their mentors. The seminar develops their personal, interpersonal, and intercultural competences in order to maximize the gains from their internship placements. Furthermore, it broadens students' perspectives of their international professional experience through a series of guided discussions, a professional journal, a final project, and presentations. The seminar helps students to evaluate and enhance their development in the workplace during their on-site work experience. Students explore and understand major professionally-related topics and develop their intercultural skills through interactive workshops and reflection of their work experience in the host culture.
