Course Description

This course is the third of five levels. It is designed for students who wish to continue studying all aspects of the language. Students develop strategies for dealing with everyday situations. The course includes a review of basic grammar. Oral work builds on communication skills that students have acquired at a previous level. Students participate in elementary discussions, oral presentations on articles describing cultural aspects of life in Québec, etc. Students develop reading comprehension and increased vocabulary by studying texts (short stories, newspaper articles, etc.).
