Course Description

This course explores contemporary Korean popular culture with an emphasis on drama and film, following the trajectory of the Korean wave (hallyu) with the framework of cultural translation. The course is designed to enable students to understand contested terrains in which the Korean new wave has been shaped: transnational cultural reception and national history, socio-historical, and political context of the Korean wave. Throughout the course students will learn how to analyze both of the Korean wave and their own reception of it as cultural translators.
