Course Description

This course is designed for students to communicate effectively in the Jordanian dialect. The course introduces students to words, expressions, and structures used frequently in everyday life. It also introduces students to the Jordanian culture and how to communicate with locals. The course develops skills to differentiate the fundamental grammatical structure of colloquial Jordanian Arabic from that of Modern Standard Arabic; describe all aspects of daily life in conversation with native speakers and understand native speakers themselves on these same subjects; recognize different accents of Jordanian colloquial dialect; show appropriate cultural inferences. The course emphasizes a communication-based method of instruction. Students are expected to be active learners, coming to class prepared to activate vocabulary and grammar through group activities. Instead of lecturing, instructors primarily facilitate these communication-based activities and guide student learning.
