Course Description

In this course, students learn about the pronunciation and the syntax of the Irish language. Students develop listening skills through listening comprehension tasks, through oral activities and through creating speaking opportunities in class. Oral themes that meet the requirements of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (Level A1) are acquired. Students are enabled to provide short and simple conversations based on themes relating to their own lives. Students are asked to reflect on their own learning process by being aware of the different learning strategies that they apply and by discussing in class the challenges they face and how they overcome these challenges.
