Course Description

This advanced course bridges theoretical understanding of Second Language Acquisition (SLA) with practical applications in English language teaching, specifically focused on the Japanese educational context. The class explores the relationship between SLA research and effective pedagogical practices across second language skills.

While the primary language ofinstruction is English, this course is provided in a bilingual format, incorporating both English and Japanese. Some readings will be in Japanese, so students need to be comfortable reading academic Japanese to get the most out of the course.

Recommended course prerequisites: Applied Linguistics (intermediate course) and/or Intermediate seminar to build a basic foundation in SLA.
