Course Description

This course covers a range of films that map issues affecting Galician culture and society. It identifies the major historical, socio-economic, political, and cultural shifts that have affected Galicia in the 20th and 21st centuries. It provides an understanding of key issues affecting Galician society such as linguistic diglossia, climate change, migration, rural abandonment, industrialization and Minoritization. This course helps develop key skills in film analysis, how to read and critically evaluate academic sources on a range of topics related to Galician cinema, culture and society, and how to combine the studied themes into a coherent overview of Galician culture and society.
