Course Description

In this course, students deepen their didactic skills in order to design, implement, and evaluate educational projects in the various professional contexts of art education. This course explores the different roles artists play in society, science, technology, crafts, and social networks, as well as artists' participation in education today. Other topics include: foundations of art education--main trends and schools, artists as theorists and teachers; art education in Europe and the US-- pedagogical movements and educational reforms in Spain.
