Course Description

The course examines contemporary developments and emerging challenges in business and commercial law. Students explore current legal issues related to contracts, corporate governance, and the legal structures used to establish and expand businesses. Through the analysis of real-world cases and legal advisory projects, the course develops students' understanding of how legal frameworks shape business operations and decision-making. Emphasis is placed on critical thinking, legal reasoning, oral communication, and the practical application of legal principles to modern business scenarios. Topics may include recent developments in contract law, company law, business formation and growth strategies, and legal problem-solving in commercial practice.
